TURKISH COFFEE READING

ABOUT

- Dr. Honeybrew (legal name: Haldun Uluc Ulgen) is a Turkish coffee fortune teller, performer, and larger-than-life personality known for his explosive energy, theatrical readings, and total confidence in his craft.
- Born in Turkey and raised in Minnesota after immigrating to the U.S. at age 10, Honeybrew says he always felt pulled toward storytelling, performance, and adventure. During his years in Minneapolis, he worked at the legendary First Avenue nightclub and hilariously claims one of the best moments of his life was accidentally tripping and falling onto Prince while escorting him to a concert seat.
- His path into fortune telling began after receiving an unforgettable Turkish coffee reading from his father shortly before his father passed away. Honeybrew recorded the reading on his phone, and when many of the predictions later came true, he became obsessed with carrying on the tradition in his father's honor.
- What started as coffee readings for podcast guests quickly became a full-time career. Eight years later, Honeybrew hosts sold-out Turkish coffee ceremonies in his New York apartment almost every weekend, blending fortune telling, comedy, performance art, and group therapy into one communal experience.
- Honeybrew reads symbolic images formed by leftover coffee grounds and describes his style as "bombastic, theatrical, and hella accurate." Using magnifying cameras, giant screens, and live illustrations, he walks guests through every symbol and prediction in real time.
- He is also outspoken about the psychic industry and openly calls out what he sees as fake psychics and manipulative readers. Honeybrew especially loves mocking tarot readers, joking they wave cards around "like Pokémon cards," while insisting Turkish coffee reading is far more interpretive and authentic.
