ABOUT

- Scott Cruz is a psychic medium, mentor, and outspoken spiritual teacher known for his direct style, sharp humor, and refusal to lean into "woo-woo" clichés.
- Scott's abilities began at just four years old while growing up in a deeply haunted home in New York. He describes seeing apparitions, predicting events before they happened, and experiencing terrifying paranormal activity so intense his family later discovered the home had been built on a burial ground.
- As he grew older, Scott searched for answers through multiple spiritual and religious communities, including Pentecostal Christianity, atheism, Scientology, and Buddhism. Despite trying to suppress his gifts for years, he says one thing always remained consistent: his intuition kept proving itself right.
- Eventually, Scott stopped hiding his abilities and began offering readings professionally. Fourteen years later, he has built a thriving word-of-mouth career without relying heavily on advertising, attracting everyone from everyday clients to surgeons, therapists, celebrities, and even other psychics seeking guidance.
- Scott practices as a psychic medium and channeler, relying almost entirely on direct intuition. While he occasionally uses tarot for fun during live shows, he says he can read someone anywhere — at a bar, on an airplane, or across a poker table.
- He became publicly known after appearing on The Real Housewives of Orange County through a connection with Tamra Judge. During the appearance, Scott famously predicted that Brooks Ayers was faking cancer — a moment that exploded across Bravo fandom.
- Today, Scott is passionate about exposing what he sees as manipulative "TikTok psychics" charging outrageous prices while giving shallow readings.

CASTING NOTES:

He appeared on The Real Housewives of Orange County and Watch What Happens Live with Andy Cohen, both in 2015.
